Here are the tools, services, and websites we use to help sharpen our business savvy and be more efficient. They help us to grow and be productive, professional and useful.

Some of these may be affiliate links. Please know I'm only recommending things to you that we use and love or know are of exceptional quality.

COPY WRITING

These are the websites and resources I use to improve my copy writing. One of the best ways to do this is to find those blogs that really resonate with you, become a subscriber and study how they convey their message. I learn so much just by being a voyeur like this.

Why do you like them so much? How do they use their voice? What is their style? Learn and craft your message in a similar way.

NOTE: I cannot emphasise this enough. Never ever copy. Believe you have something valuable to offer the world. Craft your message from your soul. You can't do that if you copy others. Letting your soul speak is the best way that you can make a difference and create a successful business.

ALEXANDRA FRANZEN

This girl is one of the smartest, most heart-felt writers you could follow. She whips out her message with brevity, clarity and a whole lot of love.

<http://www.alexandrafranzen.com/>

NICOLE ELLEDGE BROWN

Definitely check out her free tips for creating copy. You can learn a lot from creating your About Page from her.

<http://nikkielledgebrown.com/>

CELESTE MITCHELL

Celeste is the amazingly talented copywriter/editor/travel writer over at <http://TheDevilWearsFlipFlops.com>

She also has a super useful ebook called YOU in Words – a guide designed to help you craft an awesome About Us and bio page. Celeste has done some editing work for us before. She's brilliant!

RACHAEL MACDONALD

GRAMMAR GIRL

I've just started following Grammar Girl as I need help with my grammar! I wish it wasn't so important, but if you want to be a pro you have to write like one. I can't wait to hire an editor!!

<http://www.quickanddirtytips.com/grammar-girl>

MARK MANSON

The person you wish you could write like! He says it likes it is, speaks on a range of different topics, but just has a magical way of writing.

<http://markmanson.net/>

BOOST BLOG TRAFFIC

John Morrow is an expert on Copywriting and offers valuable tips on his blog. I also did is guest blogging courses years ago, which was super helpful.

Other people who I subscribe to because I love their copywriting and want to learn

Ramit Sethi, Derek Halpern, Gala Darling, Marie Forleo

GRAMMARLY

As someone who struggles with grammar, I can't tell you how much I LOVE LOVE LOVE Grammarly. It seriously kicks butt.

Grammarly is a Chrome extension that will check your spelling and grammar as you write. I recently bought the premium version and it's so worth it. It picks up so many mistakes, teaches you as you go along, and helps you sharpen your writing. I know when I hit publish now that an editor has gone through my work and I feel confident the Grammar and Spelling Nazis will stay away. (Except those ignorant ones who have no idea that British English exists and call me stupid for not spelling travelling as traveling.)

ACCOUNTING

The key to a successful business is treating it like a business from the start. That means keeping accurate records and caring about your income and expenses.

If you can, enlist the help of a bookkeeper and/or accountant. This was the first of our outsourcing priorities and it freed up so much energy for us.

XERO

Xero is a great accounting software to help you manage your invoices and accounting. They also have budget planning tools available!

FREE

Don't forget that Excel spreadsheets work well if you are flying solo with accounting. Ensure you keep accurate records. Even though we have an accountant, I still keep all the records of our income, expenses, and budgets in a spreadsheet. This helps me to know how we're growing and where we're shrinking so we can make the necessary adjustments.

As soon as I started being diligent with this I shaved off over $3000 in wasted expenses each month. Money can creep out of your wallet very quickly if you aren't paying attention.

EMAIL MANAGEMENT

Building your list and communicating effectively is the most important aspect of your business.

Here are a few tools to help:

MAILCHIMP

This was what we used before switching to Ontraport. It's free until you reach 2000 subscribers. It might take you awhile to get to that number, so I highly recommend you choose Mailchimp and save yourself some money. The only problem is you cannot use the autoresponder feature until you have a paid plan. Don't upgrade until you have this all planned out and created.

The interface and design templates are more modern and better to use than Aweber.

AWEBER

You'll pay straight away to use Aweber, but you'll get their autoresponder features. Aweber is one of the most popular email systems. The only problem I had with Aweber was their design templates were old and clunky and hard to use. I switched to Mailchimp because it took me hours to send out a simple email because of the design glitches. That was several years ago so it could have changed.

ONTRAPORT

Ontraport is an advanced system that we use. It is expensive and I do not recommend it to start with. It's for when you have your business established, products ready to go, and a clear email strategy that is possibly a little more complex and advanced. It works well with anyone doing membership courses, automation, and list segmentation.

It also has easy to create leadboxes and landing and sales pages for your site.

A lesser (and cheaper) level to Ontraport is Sendpepper, known as being Ontraport's kid sister. Unlike some of the other entry level email tools, like Mailchimp, you get all the functionality of a database system using tags and sequences.

You can start with Sendpepper and then upgrade later if you need to Ontraport – it saves all the hassle of migration and switching systems as you are already in the "skin" of Ontraport.

INFUSIONSOFT

Again, Infusionsoft similar to Ontraport. I have no experience with it but have had good reports from those who do use it. It's a little more expensive like Ontraport.

WEBSITE + HOSTING

Here are some resources to help you with your website design and maintenance. Our site is custom designed, which might not be what you're ready for in the beginning, but definitely what you want to move towards.

There are plenty of free templates you can use in the meantime. Although, we do recommend you spending around $100 to get a premium theme.

WORD PRESS

Is the website platform we recommend. It is very flexible, easy to learn and you have complete control over your website. A self-hosted wordpress site is a must i.e. <http://wordpress.org>

NORDVPN

If you're living a digital nomad life, especially if you rely on free Wi-Fi, you want to operate via a secure VPN, or Virtual Private Network. A VPN will ensure your data stays secure and gives you other benefits like accessing banned sites in some countries and allowing you access to local streaming services. IT's a minimal investment for maximum security, ease and peace of mind. Set up your VPN account here.

OPTIMIZE PRESS

Optimize Press is a new system we've started using to build my 30 Day Money Cleanse and Confidence Igniter Site. You can use it to create landing pages, optin pages, sales pages and membership sites quite easily using their templates, including blog design ones, which are easy to implement and design. You can't beat it for the price and what it can do.

SYNTHESIS

High quality hosting that we use is Synthesis. Since going with them, we've never had a hosting issue. Before that, the site was crashing all the time. It's pricier than other options and not one to worry about until your site grows.

SITEGROUND

SiteGround comes highly recommended and I've heard nothing but rave reviews about their speed, and customer service.

WEB MAINTENANCE

Chris from RTW Labs maintains our site for a monthly fee. He makes sure all plugins are updated and WordPress and he monitors the site to make sure nothing dodgy is happening and it runs smoothly. He is there to help fix any issues should they arrive. And he does all our backups.

We had to spend $2000 to get our website fixed from a crash before we started working with Chris. He would have saved us from having to do this. I told you we're here to help you learn from our mistakes.

OTHER

- Peek testing – Fantastic service to get a free critique of your website. We've learned a lot from this and are currently fixing issues that weren't apparent to us.
- Pingdom Use this site to test the loading time of your website. You want it as quick as possible
- How to start a travel blog in 11 steps

AFFILIATE

Affiliate income is a good source of passive income. We didn't pay much attention to it until last year. We're kicking ourselves now that we have huge traffic and did not set ourselves up for it in the beginning. We've probably missed out on a lot of money because of it. Plus it's going to take us a lot of time now to go back and fix it.

Here are some tools and resources to help you get it right from the start.

If you want to learn how to make money through affiliate marketing, this course from Michelle is a must, especially for beginners. Michelle makes over $50,000 a month with affiliate marketing. Always learn from the best! Get started with the course here. You'll easily make your money back + more if you follow her strategies.

AMAZON

Amazon is a great affiliate network to use. The thing we love about Amazon is that they are geniuses at convincing shoppers to buy. They've spent millions on testing what people do when they land on Amazon and how they shop. So if you link to a product you love, you'll receive commission on anything a reader then buys on their parade around the store.

Think carefully about the types of posts you can write, which can include products that help your readers, and earn you some extra income

I only use pretty links for Amazon products we recommend all the time, for example, particular books or camera gear.

COMMISSION JUNCTION

I detest the Commission Junction system. I find it very awkward and difficult to use. But, we earn commissions each month. I'm currently trying to get my degree in understanding how, and so then increase it. But, CJ is a place where many big brands host their affiliate programs. We make most of our money via TripAdvisor and Skyscanner.

You sign up to the relevant programs, grab your links and include them in your posts. Be warned, you do get a lot of email notifications so use an email address specifically for affiliate programs.

We're putting more of an effort into increasing that this year.

SHAREASALE

Shareasale has more business type affiliate links

LINKSHARE – RAKUTAN AFFILIATE NETWORK

I'm still working on how to use this one. I received an affiliate check from them once and have no idea how – nor did they when I contacted them about it!!

Check it out here

DGM NETWORK

DGM Performance is an Australian affiliate site with brands like Covermore and Kathmandu.

DIRECT TO RELEVANT BRAND/PRODUCT

If you have used a product or service that you love, sign up for their affiliate program. You're recommending them anyway, so why not earn a little bit of money to cover your expenses? There is nothing wrong with this and your readers won't care. I'll never buy a service or product now without finding someone I know and trust who is an affiliate of it, so I can buy through them and give them a bit of extra cash. I usually go to the person who first recommended it to me.

These will usually be courses or services. Most travel related products will be found in the affiliate network.

PRETTY LINK

Pretty link is such a great resource to use for shortening links. Pretty link is a WordPress plug in. You create a link specific to your website for each affiliate product. For example, when I launch my B-School mentoring group, I use pretty link to turn my affiliate link into <http://ytravelblog.com/bschool>. Using this link saves me having to remember a link with lots of letters and symbols in it and makes it look pretty!

Affiliate links can often change and with Pretty Link it means you only have to make the change within your pretty link dashboard, it will then change it for you in every post where it's mentioned. There's also an analytics system attached to it. It's basic, but still valuable.

There is a premium version, which we might be trying soon. Stay tuned with our results

SPREADSHEETS

Managing all your links across multiple networks is a headache. We keep a simple spreadsheet to help us.

On one, we keep all log in details, affiliate links, and pretty links. I also keep records of how much I've earned each month from each one so I know where to put my attention and efforts. For those brands housed within affiliate networks, I don't track all links as it is too much (and it's all recorded in the back office), I just note the affiliate network and which brands are connected to those.

AFFILIATE HOW TO GUIDES AND RESOURCES

- The ultimate guide to making money with Amazon affiliate program – Prologger and more here
- 7 ways to make more affiliate income from your blog – the Blog Tyrant
- Smart affiliate marketing strategies – Pat Flynn

SEO

To be honest, we don't pay much attention to Search Engine Optimization. They are always changing the rules and we think the best approach is to create useful content that gets shared. We get a lot of traffic from Google and it keeps rising so this strategy works. Put your focus more into this and you'll see a slow but steady return from the search engines.

Know what content brings in readers and write to that.

YOAST PLUGIN

The best plugin you can get and probably all you need to follow to tick off some good SEO practices. This is all we use and I LOVE their social media photo integration. This ensures that when people share your post the right formatted images for each platform will be shared.

MOZ

Rand Fishkin is the person to turn to for all trends and insights on SEO.

<http://moz.com/>

GOOGLE KEYWORD PLANNER TOOL

This is the free tool to use to search for your keywords. Probably the easiest thing for you to use

<https://adwords.google.com/KeywordPlanner>

MARKET SAMAUAI

If you want to go deep into SEO and do extensive, targeted keyword research, then Market Samaurai is the tool. We have it, but rarely use it due to a resources perspective. And I found you had to learn a lot about it to get the maximum benefit from it.

SOCIAL MEDIA

There are so many tools and services you can use for your social media strategy and management. The good news is a lot of them are free and cater adequately to what you need.

HOOTSUITE

We use the free version of Hootsuite to schedule out tweets and manage our list streams.

EDGAR

A recently addition to our toolkit, was Edgar. He's a social media scheduling tool that categorizes your updates and recycles them for you. He's saving us an enormous amount of time on social media. It's a monthly fee, and takes a bit of time to set up, but once you do it will save you huge amounts of time in the long run. I've recently cancelled it though because I was not getting the reach I desired on Facebook, so found it not worth the price anymore. I'd rather put that money towards boosting a facebook post or two.

TAILWIND APP

Pinterest is obviously big for us. Tailwindapp helps us to schedule out pins and to analyse how our pins are performing. It's an essential tool if you wish to build this platform and has amazing functions. Check out this post on the how to use Tailwind.

LATERGRAM

Latergram is a tool we use to help schedule Instagram posts. It's not 100% brilliant. You can't schedule it to post for you.

You schedule your photos for a certain time and then Latergram sends you an in-app notice that it's ready to be published. You still have to manually publish it. There are other apps that will publish it for you, but apparently this is a breach of Instagram's terms and could get your account banned.

This is useful, but pointless if you will be offline.

JAB JAB RIGHT HOOK

Jab Jab Right Hook by Gary Vanyerchuck is easy to understand and outlines basic principles for being effective with the various social media channels. He also gives examples of what other brands are doing.

DONNA MORITZ

Donna is the girl for all things visual for social media. She gives awesome tips and case studies on her blog and has a course Create traffic driving images. We've done the course and will be doing it again this year as she has updated it. We also appear as a guest interview talking about Pinterest.

SOCIAL MEDIA EXAMINER

Social Media Examiner is probably the best site for learning about the latest trends and successes for social media. They have social media summits each year, both live and online.

PRODUCTIVITY AND TIME MANAGEMENT

You say what?

I know extremely hard to do right? These tools and services will help you

LIFE REMINDER APP

I love this app! I use it to set reminders and daily affirmations.

MOMENTUM

Momentum is a cool Chrome extension, which helps you set your priorities for the day and an easy to do is to follow. It also shows an inspiring picture and quote. Each time you open a new tab in your browser it shows to help you stay focused on your tasks.

IF THAT THEN THIS

We haven't dived into the full power of this site yet, but if that then this is a fantastic site for automating processes. You create recipes based upon certain tasks you need done. We use it when we are working with DMO's to help track our stats. We're yet to find a sufficient tracking platform that can do this.

So we set up recipes to add all updates from our social media accounts with a certain hashtag we use, e.g. NTAustralia. When those updates go out IFTTT adds it to a spreadsheet in Google Drive for us. We can then go through those updates and track our stats from it.

GOOGLE DOCS

Google Docs is an easy way for us to share working documents and collaborative documents.

DROPBOX

We use Dropbox to share large files and documents with other people or between accounts. I save all important files and documents into the Dropbox cloud as well.

ASANA

Asana is a project management tool we use to manage various projects with those who we outsource to. We mainly use it for our design work with Jenny and our Ontraport tasks with Diana.

TRELLO

Trello is an easy to follow to do list. It has boards, similar to Pinterest, but each board is related to a specific task or project. Within each board you create a list of tasks and due dates and can check them off when you're done. I prefer this to using Asana.

GOOGLE CALENDAR

Great for scheduling and sharing calendars. Syncs across all devices. (We're Android users, so not sure about Apple products)

CANNED RESPONSES

Canned responses is a Gmail add on. It makes replying to similar emails easy. So I have a canned response set up for media kit requests, I don't have time at the moment, please take me off your press list, etc. So when it comes time to reply, I just select the canned response, add the person's name and hit send.

EMAIL FILTERS

Set up email filters from the beginning so it's easier to manage the busier the inbox gets. We have filters set up for various aspects such as affiliate, campaigns, accountant, etc.

We also have a priority and less urgent tag. I also have one for less urgent/reader replies (I move them to that folder and then go through them once a week, taking notes and replying) All emails in the inbox immediately get filtered into either of these tags or deleted.

Check my Contact Us page to see how clearly we define how we accept emails. Any that do not follow those rules get deleted.

LAST PASS

I don't know what I'd do without Last Pass. It saves all my passwords. I can easily share them with anyone on my team without giving them the actual log in details. Last pass sends them an encrypted log in so they can.

JING

We use the free version of Jing to grab screenshots or short screen videos.

CAMTASIA

I've just downloaded Camtasia to use record screensharing videos on my computer! I'm using the free version at the moment to test it and will probably upgrade to premium for future courses etc.

WEBINAR JAM

I am so excited about this product!! I'm a recent purchaser of Webinar Jam and it's blowing up my brain with lots of amazing ideas on how I can use its power to deepen my connection with my community and grow my list. As well as sell more products. I love it and think it's the most affordable and easiest webinar platform around.

When I purchased it they had a special deal, which included Webinar Genesis. If you can get this as well. I've learned SOOOOO much from this. Not just about using Webinar Jam, but about online marketing. Andy and Mike are awesome.

PHOTOGRAPHY + IMAGES

We have a designer who does the important branding/imaging templates, etc that we need. But, due to budget constraints we have to take care of a lot of things ourselves. And because of the nature of what we do, the photography is our job.

Here are the tools we use from shooting to sharing.

ADOBE CREATIVE CLOUD

We pay a monthly subscription to Adobe Creative Cloud to get access to a variety of their software programs we often use like Lightroom, Acrobat DC, and Premiere Pro.

ADOBE STOCK IMAGES

We rarely purchase images online, but if we need to Adobe Stock have had the cheapest prices for me so far and is easy to use, and I can buy one-off images without a subscription.

CANVA

Canva is quite versatile and the designs are cutting edge for someone who is design clueless. You can easily create images that pop through Canva. But, I find their system quite buggy. I always end up swearing when I use it, but I do persevere because I can get great images. We've discovered, thanks to a year of crappy Australian internet, that a faster speed works better with Canva.

They've just released Canva for Work, which I'm super keen to check out. It will have paid features. I don't know too much yet, except you can save one image in multiple formats that suit each social media platform with the click of one button. A HUGE Timesaver.

PICMONKEY

Picmonkey is not as versatile or diverse as Canva, but it's a favourite of mine for its simplicity and ease.

FLICKER

Source creative common images for whatever you may need in blog posts. Make sure you credit.

SHUTTERSTOCK

We're partners with Shutterstock so do get to use their images for free on our site. They do have a monthly subscription which may suit you if you need access to a lot of images.

ISTOCKPHOTO.COM

Istockphoto.com is another site to get relatively cheap stock photos from.

LIGHTROOM

Lightroom is our go-to photo editing software. Really easy to use and enhances your image

PHOTOSHOP

When I go back to college, it will be to learn how to use Photoshop. I use it very sparingly for photo editing or design. I really don't know what I'm doing in there and unless you're into that sort of thing, I'd pass on it and stick to the above tools.

CAMERA GEAR

You can check out our camera and lens gear here

BOOKS AND RESOURCES

- Getting out of auto Fantastic ebook to help you take control back of your camera
- Digital Photography School Darren Rowse's site
- Lonely Planet's guide to travel photography

HANDY APPS

We actually don't use a lot of apps. We're really not that tech savvy or interested. But, here are a few we find useful.

ONAVO EXTEND

A must app that will help save you data on your phone. It compresses everything so you use less data. If you're big on photos and social media this will save you money!

SNAPSEED

This is the photo editing app we use for images taken on our phone. Super easy to use.

WORD SWAG

We don't get to use this as it's an iPhone product. But, I thought I'd share with you anyway. It's great for putting out pretty and quick quotes, etc through your social channels

LITTLE MOMENTS

Another iPhone app created by my friend Fat Mum Slim and was recognised in Apple's top apps list for 2014. It's designed with Instagram in mind and has photo editing capabilities as well as pretty text overlays. It's also a great way to stay involved in the Photo a Day challenge she does each month

SHAZAM

Let's face it, there is nothing worse than hearing a great tune somewhere and having no idea of who sings the song! Shazam helps me keep my music library fresh! Just in case you don't know what it is, Shazam will listen to a song playing in the background and tell you what it is and who sings it. You can then add the song directly to your Spotify playlist. New music for your work space!

SPOTIFY

We have a premium version of Spotify. It gives us music to listen to when we are offline and is better for us to listen to Spotify offline even when we have an Internet connection, so that we don't use too much data. Spotify is the best for listening to your favourite tunes.

PAGES MANAGER

This app allows you to use and manage your Facebook page. For some reason you it's not as efficient to do it through your normal Facebook app. Who can figure out Facebook?

PHOTO GRID

This is a handy app if you want to put collage photos out on Instagram. We find our results aren't as good when we use collages though.

TIME ZONE CONVERTER

Hugely helpful for you in business when you are trying to schedule calls, etc across multiple time zones

BUSINESS + MOTIVATION

If you move into the Digital Nomad field, it's not a vacation, it's a business. Businesses earn money and provide you with the travel lifestyle you desire. Most of us are clueless about business – but you can easily learn. Here are some of my favourite resources and courses.

HOW TO MOVE FROM BLOG TO BUSINESS

Over 1,000 people have attended this training and raved about it as inspirational and useful. It's a two-hour pre-recorded webinar that outlines the six evolving stages of business. They interact with each other and understanding them will help you grow, leverage your success and create a meaningful business that makes a difference. You can get it here.

RECOMMENDED BOOKS

- The Four Hour Work Week Tim Ferris
- Virtual Freedom Chris Drucker
- Thrive Arianna Huffington
- Ultimate guide to being location independent My friend Norbert from Glob treks has written this really helpful guide.

PUBLICITY ALCHEMY

A course by my friend Kellie O'Brien, Publicity Alchemy will help you to get featured in media. Kellie has had years of experience as a journalist and in PR and knows exactly what journalists are looking for and how to pitch story ideas to them to get noticed.

TIM FERRIS PODCAST

I've loved getting to know Tim Ferris through his podcast. He's quite a humble guy and super intelligent. We've only started listening to them and they can be quite long and intense. A few of our fave interviews:

- Ramit Sethi
- Rolf Potts
- Tony Robbins

PAT FLYNN PODCAST

A helpful podcast, which focuses more on strategy and implementation rather than inspirational interviews.

THE GOOD LIFE PROJECT

We love this podcast from Jonathan Fields. He's such an awesome guy. (We've chatted on the phone in person so can vouch for this.) I'm super keen next year to attend his Good Life Project boot camp.

Some of our favourite podcasts so far:

- Brene Browne
- Erin Moon
- Dani Shapiro

LEWIS HOWES

We really love Lewis' School of Greatness Podcast. He has some awesome guests and you will learn a lot of great tips and insights on being the best you can. Some of our fave podcasts so far:

- How to boost your Productivity by procrastinating with Rory Vaden
- The art and science of body language and communication with Vanessa Van Edwards
- How a gang kid becomes a multi-millionaire with Ryan Blair

MICHAEL HYATT

Michael is the God of leadership. Such a great guy with so many awesome insights. Check out this podcast with Lewis Howes on goal setting. Awesome stuff!

I believe he has a podcast too, which we need to start listening to.

CONFIDENCE IGNITER

My business coach and I have collaborated on a course called the Confidence Igniter Program. It's an online, interactive coaching program to help you gain confidence and control over your life. It has helped me tremendously. (Yes – you'll see me being live coached through the process!)

SPIRITUALITY + PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

I'm a big believer that your spiritual journey will have a positive impact upon your business. By spiritual, I mean working on continual growth for yourself and connecting to a higher power, whatever you believe that to be, to maximise growth and prosperity. I've also included some resources I use for meditation.

Take a step forward into this world and pick up books and resources you are drawn to and connect to your beliefs.

Here are a few I love

- How to remove money blocks Lucky Bitch
- 103 Disempowering beliefs about money and success and how to remove them Nick Ortner
- Money: master the game Tony Robbins
- I will teach you to be Rich – subscribe to Ramit and buy his book
- Your money or your life
Money: a love story

WANT ACCESS TO A COURSE THAT WILL CHANGE YOUR MONEY RELATIONSHIP FOR EVER?

Not only that it will give you clarity over what you value and desire, help you cleanse those limiting and sabotaging beliefs and create a life that you love.

Hundreds have joined my 30 Day Money Cleanse journey and are transforming their world: more money, opportunities and travel.
